

SELLING PARISH COUNCIL

Complaints Procedure – Adopted July 2018

Handling Complaints

A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction by one or more members of the public about the Parish Council's action or lack of action or about the standard of a service, whether the action was taken or the service provided by the council itself or a person or body acting on behalf of the council. The policy applies to anyone who has a complaint including a serving councillor. The same rules apply to all.

A good complaints system is:

- well publicised and easy to use;
- helpful and receptive;
- not adversarial;
- fair and objective;
- based on clear procedures and defined responsibilities;
- quick, thorough, rigorous and consistent;
- decisive and capable of putting things right where necessary;
- sensitive to the special needs and circumstances of the complainant;
- adequately resourced;
- fully supported by councillors and officers; and
- regularly analysed to spot patterns of complaint and lessons for service improvement.

Complaints Procedure

The purpose of a complaints procedure is to put things right if things go wrong.

In the first instance there should be an attempt to resolve the matter informally. If this is not possible because of the serious nature or complexity of the complaint then the Clerk will consult the Chairman of the Parish Council (or in his/her absence the Vice Chairman). All complaints and their resolutions will be notified to the full council at the next Parish Council meeting.

During the period of the investigations, the identity of a complainant should only be made known to those who need to consider a complaint.

The written response on behalf of the Parish Council should include a full and frank response to the concerns raised by the complainant and an apology where appropriate.

The response should be made within 5 working days of receipt wherever possible. If the investigation requires more time than an initial response explaining the reason for a delay should be sent to the complainant within 5 working days.

The following procedure is designed for those complaints which cannot be satisfied by initial explanations provided to the complainant by the clerk, in consultation with the chair on behalf of the Council.

At all times, the rules of natural justice will apply. In other words, all parties should be treated fairly and the process should be reasonable, accessible and transparent.

1. The complainant must put the complaint about the council's procedures or administration in writing to the clerk outlining their concerns and submitting all documentations as evidence to support their complaint. Complaints unsupported by any evidence may not be considered.
2. The clerk shall acknowledge receipt of the complaint within 5 working days and advise the complainant when the matter will be considered by the council.
3. Following internal investigation by the Council, the complainant will be invited to attend a meeting with the council and to bring with them a representative if they wish.

At the Meeting

4. The Parish Council shall consider whether the circumstances of the meeting warrant the exclusion of the public and the press. Any decision on a complaint shall be announced at the council meeting in public.
5. The Chairman should introduce everyone and explain the procedure.
6. The complainant (or representative) should outline the grounds for complaint and, thereafter, questions may be asked by members.
7. The chair will have an opportunity to explain the council's position and questions may be asked by (i) the complainant and (ii), members.
8. The chair and then the complainant should be offered the opportunity to summarise their position.
9. The complainant should be asked to leave the room while members decide whether or not the grounds for the complaint have been made.
10. The complainant should be given the opportunity to wait for the decision but if a decision is unlikely to be finalised on that day they should be advised when the decision is likely to be made and when it is likely to be communicated to them
11. The decision should be confirmed in writing within seven working days together with details of any action to be taken. The Council's decision is final and it is left to the complainant as to the next steps. If the same complaint is made again, it will be deemed to be vexatious.

Handling Vexatious or Abusive Complaints

Most complainants behave in legitimate ways. A very small minority make complaints that are vexatious, in that they persist unreasonably with their complaints, or make complaints in order to make life difficult for the Council rather than genuinely to resolve a grievance.

The Council recognises that it is important to distinguish between people who make a number of complaints because they genuinely believe things have gone wrong, and people who are seeking to subvert the legitimate business of the council. We acknowledge that complainants will often be frustrated and aggrieved and it is therefore important to consider the merits of each case rather than the way in which they are expressed.

It is not necessary to meet a complainant's unreasonable demands, or to answer every single point in an unreasonable letter. Judgement will be required to separate a complainant's legitimate queries from those that are unreasonable, often within the same complaint. Skill will be required to respond tactfully and sympathetically. If the complainant's persistence adversely affects the Council's ability to do its work and provide a service to others, the Parish Council need to address such behaviour.

Where complaints are identified as vexatious in accordance with the criteria set out in appendix 1, the Clerk in liaison with three councillors including the Chairman of the Council and, whenever possible, the Vice Chairman will determine what action to take. The Clerk will implement such action and will notify the complainant(s), that their complaint/grievance is considered as vexatious and what action that will be taken. This notification will be copied to all Councillors and a record kept of the reasons why a complaint has been classified as vexatious.

The council may deal with vexatious complaints in one or more of the following ways:

- In a letter, setting out a code of commitment and responsibilities for the parties involved if the Parish Council is to continue processing the complaint/grievance. If these terms are contravened, consideration will then be given to implementing other action as indicated below.
- Decline contact with the complainant, either in person, by telephone, fax, email or any combination of these, provided that one form of contact is maintained which will usually be by conventional post (letter).
- Notify the complainant, in writing that the Council has responded to the points raised and has tried to resolve the complaint/grievance but that there is nothing more to add and continuing contact on the matter will serve no useful purpose. The complainant will also be notified that the correspondence is at an end and the Council does not intend to engage in further correspondence dealing with the complaint.
- Inform the complainant that the Council intends to seek legal advice on unreasonable or vexatious complaints/grievances and behaviour.
- Temporarily suspend all contact with the complainant, in connection with the issues relating to the complaint or grievance being considered.

Restricting Contact

- Any restrictions will be appropriate and proportionate to the nature of the complainant's contacts with the council at that time such as: Placing time limits on telephone conversations and personal contacts;
- Limiting the complainant to one form of contact (letter);
- Requiring the complainant to communicate only with one named employee/member;

If a complaint is currently going through the council's complaints procedure, asking the complainant to enter into a written agreement about their future conduct complaint is to be progressed;

- Closing the investigation into a complaint;
- Refusing to register and process further complaints providing the complainant with acknowledgements only;
- Banning a complainant from the Council's premises;
- Involving the police where the complainant is believed to have committed a criminal offence (harassment, assault or criminal damage), where assault is threatened, or the complainant refuses to leave council premises.

The clerk will inform the complainant in writing why a decision has been made to restrict or stop future contact, the contact arrangements and the length of time that these restrictions will be in place.

There should never be a blanket ban for an unspecified period of time unless the Council are legally required to do so following a police investigation. The council should always try to maintain one form of contact which will normally be by way of conventional post (letter). In extreme situations the council will tell the complainant in writing that they must restrict contact to communication through a nominated advocate known and declared to be acting on their behalf.

In deciding which restrictions are appropriate, careful consideration will be given to balancing the rights of the individual with the need to ensure other residents, our employees, councillors and co-opted members do not suffer any disadvantage or undue stress and the resources of the council are used as effectively as possible.

Threatening and Abusive Complainants and Harassment

We do not expect staff or members to tolerate unacceptable behaviour by complainants which causes or may cause undue stress. The Council believes that harassment is totally unacceptable. The Council will work to prevent any form of harassment from happening in the first instance and where it has already occurred, will work to prevent it from happening again.

Harassment is a term that is generally used to define unwelcome and unwarranted behaviour that affects the dignity of an individual or group of individuals. Harassment may also include actions characterised as offensive, intimidating, malicious, insulting or humiliating that attempts to undermine or injure an individual or group of individuals.

Where there is abusive or aggressive behaviour which produces damaging or hurtful effects, physically or emotionally on the staff or members which includes, but not exclusively, verbal abuse (including name calling), bullying, shouting or swearing or threat of any of these behaviours the staff or members affected should step away from the situation and the complainant asked to leave the premises where appropriate.

This can mean terminating a conversation whether it is face to face or by telephone, advising that the conversation is being terminated, and in the case of such behaviour in a face-to-face contact in the office or public meeting the complainant should be asked to leave the premises.

All such incidences must be documented. This will, in itself, cause personal contact with the complainant to be discontinued and the complaint will, thereafter, only be continued through written communication by post. Any complainant who threatens or uses physical violence towards staff or members will receive written confirmation that they are being treated as a vexatious complainant and informed of the action that will be taken.

Legal References

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 Section 14(1), public authorities do not have to comply with vexatious requests. The Council also has a legal duty under the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, the health, safety and welfare at work of its employees and members.

Appendix 1

Definition of a Vexatious complaint or behaviour

Complainants (and/or anyone acting on their behalf) may be deemed to be vexatious where contact with them shows that they meet one or more of the following criteria:

- Persist in pursuing a complaint/grievance where the Council's Complaints Procedure or the Freedom of Information procedure has been fully implemented & exhausted.
- Persistently change the substance of a complaint/grievance or continually raise new issues or seek to prolong contact by continually raising further concerns or questions upon receipt of a response.
- Are repeatedly unwilling to accept evidence given as being factual or deny receipt of an adequate response in spite of correspondence specifically answering their questions or do not accept that facts can sometimes be difficult to verify when a long period of time has elapsed. Repeatedly do not clearly identify the precise issues which they wish to raise despite
- reasonable efforts of the Council to address their concerns, and/or where the concerns identified are not within the remit of the Council.
- If the complaint is about essentially the same matter that has already been considered, with only very minor differences, and does not contain any new information. The most difficult vexatious complaints to deal with are often complaints that are slightly different from the original complaint, but about the same broad area of activity. Regularly focus on a trivial matter to an extent which is out of proportion to its significance. It is recognised that determining what is a trivial matter can be subjective and careful judgement must be used in identifying frivolous complaints.
- Have threatened or used physical violence towards staff or members at any time.
- Have had an excessive number of contacts with the Council - placing unreasonable demands on staff or members. Discretion will be used in determining the precise of number of excessive contacts applicable under this section, using judgement based on the specific circumstances of each individual case.

- Have harassed or been personally abusive or verbally aggressive towards staff or members dealing with the complaint/grievance. The Council recognise, however, that complainants may sometimes act out of character in times of stress, anxiety or distress and should make reasonable allowances for this. All instances of harassment, abusive or verbally aggressive behaviour will be documented.
- Have harassed or been personally abusive or verbally aggressive towards any Members of the Council (Councillors) or co-opted members whether this has been on a face-to-face contact or at public meetings.
- Are known to have recorded meetings or conversations without the prior knowledge and consent of other parties involved and/or have impersonated any member of staff or Councillors with the objective of soliciting information for whatever purpose.
- Seeking to coerce, intimidate or threaten staff, Councillors or other people involved whether by use of language, tone of voice or behaviour including body language.
- Repeatedly raise grievances which are already proven to be without substance or foundation.
